The Mackenzie Gas Project A Secure Energy Source

The Mackenzie Gas Project is one of the largest private energy projects ever proposed in Canada and one that will open the door to even greater exploration and development in our north. It represents much needed investment in our economic future and will generate significant business and employment opportunities for our people.

In preparation for the Project, the Government of Northwest Territories is actively working to ensure that northerners are fully informed and ready to take advantage of the opportunities this development and future explorations will offer.

The GNWT's Mackenzie Valley Pipeline Office is available to answer all your pipeline-related questions.
